Serious Ruitway Accident. WHERLING, March 2.—A special to the 'elligencer says: "A terrible accident oc curred on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, about 10 o'clock, at Toll Gate, a station about half-way between Parkersburg and Grafton. The west-bound express ran into a big rock that had tumbled from the hill xplosion and the 'atter was so seriously in-ured that he li ed but an hour or two. The engers e caped without injury, and travel was not striously delayed.

An Independent Railroad Rumor.

patch yesterday, dated New York, and stating that Jay Gould and Victor Newcomb had obtained control of the Louisville and Nashville road by purchase of a majority of the shares. It has been known, as stated in these columns, that these gentlemen have been banded together in a raid on the Louisville and Nashville, and strongly suspected that their object was to get control of affairs. There has been a bitter lend for some months between Mr. Newcomb and the administra-tion of the road, according to common re-port, and he is not the man to remain inactive when he is in a fight. This change in the control, if such a change has really occurred, is a most important one for deorgia. As to whether for good or had the Inture must determine. It is quite certain that it would make a considerable difference in the fight now being waged in the Georgia Central camp. Mr. Newcomb is a warm ad-mirer of Mr. Wadl-y, and believes strongly in his signaity. He refused two years ago to go into a scheme to dispossess Mr. Wad-ley, and has probably not changed his views Chattanooga Times, Wednesday: "The ru-nor reached the city yesterday that the consville and Nashville system had been o' by Jay Gould, and that Colonel E. W. Cole would be appointed general man-iger. It raised considerable excitement in allroad circles and provoked a great deal of talk upon the streets. It was discredited by the maj rity, yet some were inclined to be-lieve the report. Yesterday's American says in relation to the rumor: A portion of the community around the brokers' offices were a state of excitement yesterday over a dely circulated report that Jay Gould had coped' the Louisville and Nashville rail-y and all its connections. The news centers, or some time past, however, that a em of railroads, and that Jay y and might, at any time, take measures aborb it. In connection with the flying more of yesterday was the report that lonel E. W. Cole was to be president of the uisville and Nashville system. The at prepared to say whether he had any innection with the matter at all."

Graftou. The west-bound express ran into a big rock that had tumbled from the hill-side, which threw the engine from the track and it plunged into a store near the track and through several barrels of oil standing on the platform at the depot. The boiler exploded, completely wrecking the engine. The oil caught fire and the railroad office, G. James's store, two passenger cars, one mail and one baggage car were burned. The former was instartly killed by the boiler explosion and the latter former was instartly killed by the boiler explosion and the latter was an aerloade.
